<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Identify and assess Children and Young People with SEND? Children are assessed on entry to school. This is completed through observations undertaken by the teacher. The teacher takes account of information passed on from other settings. Children who are identified as making less progress than expected may also be assessed using some standardised tests or specialist tests. The school

may consult other agencies for assessments. The school also talks to parents about progress and concerns and any other factors which may impact on the child's progress.

- Evaluate the effectiveness of provision for Children and Young People with SEND?

The school monitors the progress of all children with SEND and reports to governors annually on this progress. We evaluate progress to establish the effectiveness of interventions and specialist provision. Children themselves also participate in this process. We monitor and match the progress in comparison to other children in similar schools.

- Assess and review progress of Children and Young People with SEND?

We use our schools assessment and tracking system to monitor the progress of children with SEND and ensure small step progress across all subject areas. This enables accurate targets to be set. It also enables us to identify any gaps. Reviews will take place termly and will include the views of the pupils, parents and class teacher.

6. Who are the best people to talk to in your setting/ school/ academy /college about a Child or Young Persons difficulties with learning/ Special Educational Needs or disability (SEND)?

Miss Jones is the SENCO and is available to discuss any difficulties with learning or specific SEND. Class teachers are also good people to discuss any concerns in the first instance.

7. What are the different types of support available for Children and Young People with SEND in setting/ school/ academy /college?

Children identified with SEND may be given additional support from the Teacher or Teaching Assistant within the classroom. Differentiated work will be given to ensure engagement for all. Some children may require a short Intervention. Some children may have a Statement or EHC Plan. If so the school will address the targets set to achieve good outcomes for the child's individual needs.

8. How will the setting/ school/ academy /college ensure ALL staff are aware and understand a Child or Young Person's SEND?

Staff are informed through a child's IEP which will be available in class for all members of staff. Staff may also be informed through discussions with the SENCO. The Dinner Supervisor will inform dinner staff as appropriate taking into account the sensitivity of some children's needs. As children transfer from one class to another teachers discuss the needs of every child in their class.

9. How will the setting/ school/ academy /college let a parent/ carer know if they have any concerns about their Child or Young Person's learning?

Parents will be informed at Parents Evenings. The teacher may ask to talk to parents at any other time if there are concerns.

10. How is support allocated to Children and Young People?

Support is allocated on the basis of need. Support does have to be organised at the beginning of every school year but sometimes things change during the year due to unexpected admissions and new needs. The school tries to be flexible and tries to respond as swiftly as they can and as flexibly as we are able.

11. How does support move between the key stages?

We have a team of Teaching Assistants who work at KS1 and KS2. Their time is allocated at the beginning of each year. Sometimes children will work with the same Teaching Assistant between the key stages but often as they move key stages they will work with different staff. We ensure that children have the opportunity to meet new staff to make sure this transition is as smooth as possible. Our Teaching Assistants and the SENCO often visit Secondary settings with children to ensure a smooth transfer and we welcome visits from Secondary Staff.

12. Which other people and organisations provide services to Children and Young People with SEND in your setting/ school/ academy /college?

Educational Psychology, Speech & Language, Youth & Family Support, Integrated Sensory Support Service, CAMHs, School Nurse, Local Authority Inclusion Service, Physiotherapy.

13. What training have staff received to support Children and Young People with SEND?

The SENCO is a fully qualified SEN teacher. Many of our teaching assistants have also undertaken specialised training. The SENCO has organised and led whole staff training sessions and is available to support and advise staff when required.

14. How will teaching be adapted for a Child or Young Person with SEND?

Teaching will be differentiated to meet the individual needs of children with SEND. Planning takes careful account of all children.

15. What support is available for parents/ carers of a Child or Young Person with SEND?

The SENCO supports many families and attends multi agency meetings when appropriate. We will try to put families in contact with agencies who can support families in particular need. The SENCO will meet parents on request to discuss concerns around a child.

16. How is the setting/ school/ academy /college's physical environment accessible to Children and Young People with SEND?

The school is generally accessible to all, with wide doors in most areas. We do have a disabled toilet. Although the school does have stairs which are less accessible we do make every reasonable adjustments (including a stair lift) to make the building accessible for all.

17. What facilities are available for Children and Young People with SEND on the setting/ school/ academy /college site e.g. special quiet room, lunchtime club?

If children need support at lunch times and break times we can offer quiet areas and space within the class or hall, whichever is most suitable. Members of staff are available during the whole school day to support children as they need it.

18. How will Children and Young People be supported during transitions? (when moving to another setting/ school/ college or between classes/ groups in the setting/ school/ college)

An official transition day takes place each year in July so children can meet their new teacher and have the opportunity to talk about their new class. Throughout the year children attending the Preschool have other opportunities to work within Class 1 and work alongside the staff and children at Skidby School. Children moving to KS3 with SEND may have additional visits. We always meet to discuss individual children with the SENCO of the receiving school. Children with significant needs will have a Transition review with the Secondary school including parents and other professionals. These usually happen at the beginning of Year 6. Statemented pupils and those with EHC Plans have Transition reviews in Year 5. Other professionals such as the Educational Psychologist may attend these meetings to offer advice. Preparations are made with children to ensure transition is as smooth as possible.
